

AREA STUDIES CENTERS

Office of Resources for International and Area Studies

Institute of East Asian Studies

Center for Latin American Studies

*Center for Middle Eastern
Studies*

Institute of Slavic, East European, and Eurasian Studies

Center for African Studies

Center for South Asia Studies

Center for Southeast Asia Studies

Institute of European Studies.

ORIAS

International and Area Studies K-12 Outreach University of California, Berkeley

The Office of Resources for International and Area Studies (ORIAS) is a joint program of the IAS National Resource Centers at U. C. Berkeley. Since its inception in 1996, the office has been dedicated to providing scholarly resources and supporting professional development for K-12 and community college teachers addressing international studies across the curriculum. Funding is provided by Title VI grants from the United States Department of Education.

PROGRAMS

Free Workshops and Seminars
E-Newsletter
Web-based Resources
Lending Library
Tuition Scholarships
Speakers' Bureau

University of California
Office of Resources for International and Area Studies
2223 Fulton Street, Rm 338 (MC 2324)
Berkeley, CA 94720-2324

Michele Delattre, Program Representative
Phone: 510-643-0868 • Fax: 510-643-7062
Email: orias@berkeley.edu

WEB RESOURCES

<http://orias.berkeley.edu>

- News: campus and regional events, travel opportunities, resources.
- Classroom materials.
- Class archives: bibliographies, presentation summaries, links, lessons.
- Area study and world history links.
- Lending library catalogue.

GLOBAL STUDIES

Internationalizing education prepares students to

- be citizens in the 21st century.
- work in a global market place.
- enjoy the benefits of world music, art, and culture.
- understand social, religious, and political differences
- prepare for college.

TEACHERS AS SCHOLARS

ORIAS programs provide teachers with

- access to international area experts.
- news about events, study, and travel opportunities.
- working groups with colleagues and area scholars.
- assistance and curriculum materials.
- scholarly research and discussion.